• According to the fruit harvest period in Egypt, the global climate change greatly affects the export seasons and the harvest season may vary by early or late accordingly.

- Peak season (recorder increases in several cost)
- Contract season (around 30 days before harvesting season body contracts are available)
- Harvesting season

Vegetables are available around the year.

Prices are related to the domestic market as most vegetables are requested in retail and supermarkets.

Through the Contract farming system and seasonal contracting, we can provide our clients with the ability to grow all kinds and varieties of vegetables.
